
Uncharted Waters

Posted by Fitz - 2009/09/23 20:12

Some friends and our families have been gathering and camping on remote northern Maine lakes for many years. Recently, I have been taking along the sailing canoe and have enjoyed sailing on lakes that we have all to ourselves.

Reportedly, this is the first sail ever seen on this particular lake. I had a blast over several days with nice winds.

Well, I would show you the photos, but the restrictions on photo size are ridiculous, so I will have to edit if I get a chance.

Well, here it is from another server.
